Farmingville, NY - On November 11, Councilwoman Jane Bonner joined federal, state, county and town officials to honor seven residents of Timber Ridge that served in the military during World War II. At the event, which was held in the community's clubhouse, an American Flag that was flown over the White House was presented to the group along with certificates of appreciation.

"The veterans who were honored are part of our country's greatest generation," said Councilwoman Bonner. "They courageously answered the call of duty so we can all live free and I commend their bravery and thank them for the freedom that we cherish today."
